

Grant and Fellowship writing *

Friday, 1 December 2023 11:00 (1h 30m)

You will learn about effective strategies for crafting a compelling proposal to successfully apply for grants and fellowships. You will learn about different types of grants and fellowships available to early career researchers and how to select the one that is most appropriate for you. We will deliver an interactive and hands on session that will provide you with practical tools to develop a research proposal that effectively communicates the significance, innovation, and feasibility of your research project.
