

Contribution ID: 5

Type: not specified

Nuclear charge measurement of relativistic heavy ions

Tuesday, 14 May 2013 17:20 (25 minutes)

The SOFIA experiment, held at FRS/R3B last year triggered several technical development. One of them led us to measure the nuclear charge of fission fragments with a very high resolution. We'll discuss the technical achievements on both the detector and the electronic sides.

Primary author: TAIEB, Julien (CEA Bruyeres le Chatel)

Presenter: TAIEB, Julien (CEA Bruyeres le Chatel)

Session Classification: Tracking Session